2. Processing Purpose, Categories of Data, and Legal Basis of Processing Activities

OSRAM Licht AG shares are registered shares. The credit institutions involved in the purchase and/or management of your registered OSRAM shares regularly share with us such information as required by us for the purpose of maintaining the share register. This includes information required under section 67 AktG, such as the name, date of birth, and address, and also the nationality of the shareholder. Data is transmitted through Clearstream Banking Frankfurt (CBF), the central securities depository that handles the technical processing of securities transactions and holds the shares in custody for the credit institutions. If you sell your shares, Clearstream Banking will report this to us.

We use your personal data for the purposes described in the Stock Corporation Act. These include, in particular, (i) the maintenance of the share register, (ii) communications with you as a shareholder, and the (iii) organization and hosting of Annual General Meetings. If you would like, for example, to attend our Annual General Meeting – whichever you are free to attend – we need your name and the number of your shares in order to provide you with the necessary voting documents. These data will later appear also in the register of attendees to which we are legally responsible. Even if you submit an application for amending the agenda or want to make counter motions or nominations, we must publish your name under certain conditions. Beyond this, we use your personal data only for purposes that are compatible with the aforementioned objectives (i) – (iii) (in particular for the preparation of statistics, e.g. to illustrate shareholder trends, the number of transactions, or overviews of the largest shareholders).

The provisions of the AktG in conjunction with Article 6 (1) c GDPR form the legal basis for the processing of your personal data. In addition, we may also process your personal data to comply with legal obligations, such as regulatory requirements and record retention requirements under securities, commercial, and tax legislation.

In the context of the authorization of the proxies appointed by the Company for the Annual General Meeting, for example, we are obliged under the provisions of the AktG to keep a verifiable record of the data provided by shareholders as proof of authorization. In this case, the relevant provisions of the AktG and Article 6 (1) c GDPR constitute the legal basis for the processing of personal data.

In certain individual cases, we also process your data as necessary to pursue our legitimate interests in accordance with Article 6 (1) f GDPR. This occurs, for example, in the event of a capital increase, when individual shareholders have to be excluded from the communication of a rights offering based on their nationality or place of residence, in order to ensure compliance with applicable securities laws in the relevant non-European countries.

If you request admission cards for an Annual General Meeting for a person you have authorized to attend on your behalf, it is your responsibility to inform this authorized person about the collection of personal data by OSRAM. OSRAM collects the personal data of the authorized person exclusively for the purposes of sending the admission cards and organizing the attendance of the person at the Annual General Meeting, including their exercise of relevant rights and, especially, the voting right.

In the event that we want to process your personal data for a purpose that is not specified in this privacy policy, we will notify you of this planned processing activity in accordance with the relevant statutory requirements.
